Helping women with the emotional challenges of Christmas, especially if they are separated from their families

Christmas can be a really hard time emotionally for women at Catherine House. When women are in a position of having limited control over their situation, one of the best gifts we can give them is a gift card. This allows them the choice and control over a purchase they need.

They may also use the card to buy a gift for their child, enabling them to participate in the tradition of giving.

Gift cards in $25 denominations from Coles Myer, Woolworths, Target, BigW and Kmart are greatly appreciated.
